West Midlands Housing and Energy Conference 2007

Energy Performance Certificates A driver for behavioural change?

Tuesday 5th June, 9am - 4.15pm
The Holiday Inn, Stratford upon Avon

The twelfth event in a series of successful conferences dedicated to the housing and energy agenda, 'Energy Performance Certificates A driver for behavioural change?' will take place in Stratford upon Avon on World Environment Day.

The conference will consider how, within the Government's Building a Greener Future agenda, escalating fuel prices and public interest in home energy generating technologies, Local Authorities can use the new mandatory certification process to drive behavioural change and reduce domestic CO₂ emissions.

Government and housing advisors will set the context for the day. Marketing, technical and surveying specialists, and representatives from the financial services industry, will reflect on the practical delivery of Energy Performance Certificates and the incentives available to drive householder investment in energy saving measures.

See overleaf for registration details and directions.

The West Midlands HECA Forum would like to thank npower and Stratford on Avon District Council for their sponsorship support.

By road: M40 Jct 15 to A46, A439. By rail: Stratford upon Avon station 15 minutes walk.

Local Authorities (including County Councils) and other housing advice and technical specialists from across the region are invited to take part in what will no doubt be a lively and inspiring debate. The conference is free of charge to delegates.

To register, email emily.milroy@hestiaservices.co.uk

Please register as soon as possible to guarantee your place. The deadline for responses is Friday 25th May.

Delegates are also offered the opportunity to take a professional guided walking tour of Stratford; the ideal way to discover its beauty and charm, learn the Shakespeare story and learn of the other unique features of this historic market town.

An additional seminar on the more technical aspects of Energy Performance Certificates will be available as an alternative to the tour. Places for the walking tour are limited. Please indicate your preference in your email response.
